The last Will and Testament of Sarah Dillingham of Ipswich, Widow.

For my Soul, I commend it into the hands of God, in the mediation of Jesus Christ.

For my temporal estate, I give to my only child, Sarah Dillingham, my whole estate in lands and goods, (except such particular legacies as hereafter are named,) and if my child die before it shall be married, or attain the age of one and twenty years, then my will is that the same shall be divided equally between
