CONDITIONS.

The price to ſubſcribers will be eight dollars, neatly mounted, colored, and glazed One dollar, (to lighten the great expence of publication) to be paid on ſubſcribing.

To non-ſubſcribers, the price will be ten dollars.

Copy right ſecured.

IN offering the above work to the public, the proprietors are ſenſible that excellence is not often attainable; but with candor and truth, equally remote, from arrogance and partiality, they can ſay, that they conſcientiouſly believe it has a juſt claim to the confidence and patronage of the people.

A map of Virginia has been long and anxiouſly looked for: None has been publiſhed, on the plan of the one now offered, for many years.

The labor, expence, and apparent difficulties, in accompliſhing ſo intereſting a work, have deterred ſeveral from the arduous undertaking. The proprietors, finding that moſt of the other ſtates had recently given encouragement to ſimilar productions, and entertaining a high ſenſe of the real dignity and importance of Virginia, embarked in the buſineſs, from a well grounded belief, that the magnitude and utility of the work would inſure, if accompliſhed, a remuneration And while Virginia is powerfully ſtimulated with the love of ſcience and virtue, they hope and believe ſhe will view domeſtic productions, which prove pre eminently uſeful, with a generous pride

Thoſe gentlemen who take ſubſcription papers, are requeſted to return them to the ſubſcriber, in Peterſburg, by the firſt day of May.

The maps will be ready for ſubſcribers, in the courſe of the enſuing ſummer.

To THE PUBLIC.

DURING the preſent year, J. Ogilvie will continue to inſtruct youth in the city of Richmond. In addition to the various branches of literature and ſcience heretofore taught in his ſchool, his pupils will have an opportunity of ſtudying the higher branches of mathematical ſcience, a more extenſive courſe of natural philoſophy, the dead languages, and the French and Spaniſh languages. In teaching the higher branches of Mathematical ſcience and the dead languages, J. Ogilvie will be aſſiſted by Mr. Wood of this city, whoſe ſuperior proficiency and ſkill in Mathematical and Phyſical ſcience eminently entitle him to public patronage. The French and Spaniſh languages will be taught by Mr. Bonnadil, with whoſe aſſiduity and qualifications in the line of his profeſſion, the citizens of Richmond are ſufficiently acquainted. Theſe arrangements, whilſt they will conſiderably diminiſh J. Ogilvie's emoluments, will greatly enlarge the utility of the ſchool. The principal diſadvantages of ſchools conducted by a ſingle teacher, are, the principal and uninterrupted preſſure of exertion, the diſſipation of thought amongſt ſuch a variety of ſtudies as almoſt to preclude the poſſibility of pre-eminent ſkill or proficiency in any one department of knowledge, and the conſequent imperfection and incompleatneſs of the courſe. Theſe diſadvantages will be radically obviated by the preceding arrangements Thus modified and extended, the plan of education which will be purſued in this ſchool, will embrace probably, as comprehenſive and compleat a courſe of literature and ſcience as can be reaſonably expected in a ſeminary, ſo totally deſtitute of every ſort of extrinſic ſupport. The ſchool will be opened on the ſecond Monday in January.

P. S. Mr. Wood will teach the arts of drawing and painting, to ſuch young gentlemen as may be deſirous to acquire ſome knowledge and ſkill in theſe highly elegant and uſeful accompliſhments.

TO remove that diſtruſt often felt reſpecting new undertakings, and ſo prejudicial to manufacturing attempts in America, they think it proper to obſerve, that nothing is wanting in the buſineſs to enable good artiſts to perform their work here as well as in Europe. That they have theſe artiſts; that two of the partners were bred to the buſineſs in a factory of the beſt repute carried on by their father, long afterwards by themſelves. They truſt that while foreign goods are received without a queſtion, an unreaſonable ſuſpicion will not prevent their countrymen from giving that trial to their goods, which only can prove their value. Beſides a natural doubt, they know that certain intereſts national as well as well as individual, will ſuggeſt objections to their undertaking. They have no difficulty in ſaying, that work of the like kind ſhall be as well executed here, as in other countries. The colors capable of being fixed, will be found as permanent; the cloths perhaps better ſubſtance, and the prices lower than of the imported cottons.

PROPOSALS

For publiſhing by Subſcription,

A HISTORY

Of the riſe, progreſs, and termination of the

Revolutionary War,

BETWEEN

GREAT BRITAIN

AND THE

UNITED STATES OF AMERICA,

Interſperſed with Biographical, Political, and Moral Obſervations.

By MRS. M. WARREN.

THE work begins with a ſhort introductory chapter relative to the ſtate of ſociety, the manners, morals and political ſituation of the inhabitants of the American colonies previous to the rupture with Great Britain.

The regular, hiſtorical narration is begun with the introduction of the Stamp Act, and continued to the Treaty of Paris, among the belligerent powers in 1783; to which is added a ſupplement, comprifing important events relative to the affairs of the United States after the reſtoration of peace. An appendix is annexed to each volume, conſiſting of original letters, papers, &c. &c. In addition to the above conciſe view of the nature and deſign of the work, the publiſher offers ſome extracts from the author's addreſs to the public in the beginning of her hiſtory.

She obſerves, that, "Connected by nature, friendſhip, and every ſocial tie, with many of the firſt patriots, and moſt influential characters on the continent, in the habits of confidential and epiſtolary intercourſe with ſeveral gentlemen employed abroad in the moſt diſtinguiſhed ſtations, and with others ſince elevated to the higheſt grades of rank and diſtinction, ſhe had the beſt means of information, through a long period that the colonies ſtood ſuſpended, waiting the operation of foreign courts, and the ſucceſs of their own enterpriſing ſpirit.

"As circumſtances were collected, facts related, and characters drawn, many years antecedent to any hiſtory ſince publiſhed relative to the diſmemberment of the colonies and to American independence, there are few alluſions to any later writers or events. Active characters have been portrayed, the principles of the times developed, and the changes marked.

"Several years have elapſed, ſince the hiſtorical tracts now with diffidence ſubmitted to the public, have been arranged in their preſent order.

"Not indifferent to the opinion of the world, nor ſervilely courting its ſmiles, no apology is made for the attempt or the execution of a work, that had rectitude for its baſis and a beneficent regard to the rights of mankind for its motive. The effort beſpeaks candor, and the author expects it from a generous and liberal minded people."

The work will be executed in the beſt ſtile of printing, and delivered to ſubſcribers in three Octavo volumes, each containing from four to five hundred pages, at the moderate price of Six Dollars the ſett, bound in boards.

AN EPITOME OF ARTS AND SCIENCES

BEING

A comprehenſive ſyſtem of the Elementary parts of an uſeful Education.

Illuſtrated with Engravings of various ſubjects in Natural Hiſtory, &c.

THIS book is an improved and enlarged work, upon the plan of the Rev. Mr. TURNER's book, of Oxford, England That work has been very generally approved and adopted in the beſt ſchools in the middle ſtates, though it was in what related to government, and ſome other particulars, not ſo well adapted to American principles, and habits of thinking. The preſent work was undertaken, with a view to the removal of the exceptionable part, but in accompliſhing this purpoſe, the American Editor extended his views ſtill farther, and the ſeveral articles of grammer, arithmetic, geography, ſtatiſtics, chronology, government, politics, mythology, chemiſtry, &c. have been rendered more plain and conformable with modern improvements, than the original work.

The book contains nearly 300 pages, and the engravings are not in the caricature ſtyle, uſual in ſchool books.

This book is ſold at a Dollar volume, bound and lettered, at Duane's Book-ſtore, Waſhington City, and at the ſtore of Mr. Marſh Georgetown, of Meſſrs. Warner and Hanna Baltimore, and of the Bookſellers generally in Philadelphia.
