SULLIVAN's LECTURES,

PROPOSALS

By THOMAS B. WAIT & Co.

FOR PRINTING, BY SUBSCRIPTION,

AN HISTORICAL TREATISE

ON THE

FEUDAL LAW,

AND THE

CONSTITUTION AND LAWS OF ENGLAND;

With a Commentary on Magna Charta, and Illustrations of many of the English Statutes.

BY THE LATE

FRANCIS STOUGHTON SULLIVAN, L. L. D.
Royal Professor of Common Law in the University of Dublin.

To which authorities are added, and a Diſcourſe is prefixed, concerning the Laws and Government of England,

BY GILBERT STUART, L. L. D.

THE Lectures of Profeſſor Sullivan, delivered to the Students in the Univerſity of Dublin, are in very high repute among all Lawyers of eminence, and have been uniformly recommended as an elementary book to thoſe young gentlemen who begin the ſtudy of Law with a view to render themſelves reſpectable in the profeſſion.

However obſolete the feudal policy may now ſeem to be, it having gradually diſappeared as mankind grew more civilized and became better acquainted with their natural and inalienable rights and privileges; yet a reſearch into the hiſtory of the government of juriſprudence of the nations of Europe, will ſatiſfy any one, that many conſequences of that ſyſtem ſtill exiſt and influence the opinions and deciſions of the higheſt and moſt enlightened tribunals of juſtice. Every author who has undertaken to give a regular and ſyſtematic account of the riſe and progreſs of modern nations, has felt himſelf obliged to reſort to the hiſtory of feuds and feudal rights, as the fundamental principle from which all exiſting civil and political inſtitutions have taken their riſe; and every juriſt who has employed himſelf in explaining the conſtitution and laws of his country, has gone to the ſame ſource for the correct materials of his eſſays and diſſertations. Robertſon, in his hiſtory of the Emperor Charles V. has with great beauty and perſpicuity illuſtrated ſo much of the feudal policy as was neceſſary to enable the ſcientific reader to underſtand that valuable book; and Sir Wm. Blackſtone has in the courſe of his commentaries, led the ſtudent to a contemplation of the ancient tenures, many of which depend upon the doctrine of feuds, as eſtabliſhed in England by the Norman conqueror.

But in both thoſe invaluable productions, the feudal policy was adverted to, only as incidental to the principal object of the authors, and therefore cannot be ſuppoſed to furniſh ſo complete and ſatiſfactory an account, as would be given by ſo diſtinguiſhed a lawyer as profeſſor Sullivan, who declares the great purpoſe of his lectures to be the full diſcuſſion of the ſubject, which was of neceſſity but partially conſidered by the other writers.

This work has become ſo ſcarce in this country, as to be ſeldom ſeen, even on the ſhelves of a practiſing lawyer; a fact to be accounted for only by the difficulty of obtaining the book: for it cannot well be ſuppoſed that any one of the profeſſion, who has higher views than the mere pecuniary advantages of the practiſe, would willingly neglect an enquiry into thoſe ancient inſtitutions, upon which, notwithſtanding the lapſe of ages, moſt modern improvements are founded. But it is not to the profeſſion alone, that this book may be conſidered uſeful. In this riſing empire, where polical knowledge to a certain degree is claimed by all, and actually poſſeſſed by many; a book which ſuccinctly and perſpicuouſly brings to view the laws, inſtitutions, manners and cuſtoms of thoſe nations from which our Engliſh anceſtors deſcended, muſt be peculiarly uſeful, as it will enable young politicians to trace all our civil regulations to their ſource, and thus to account methodically and ſcientifically for many modern uſages and practiſes, of which their knowledge is extremely ſuperficial. In this book they will ſee how our anceſtors ſtruggled for the eſtabliſhment of thoſe privileges which artful monarchs and a proud nobility were continually attempting to deſtroy; and they will alſo learn that the perſevering induſtry of the people, aided by the wealth which their ſkill and enterprize brought into the country, finally obtained a complete victory in the eſtabliſhment of principles and cuſtoms, which, tranſplanted into America by our progenitors, terminated in thoſe glorious conſtitutions which diſtinguiſh the people of America, for liberty and happineſs, from every other people on the earth.

CONDITIONS.

The work shall be elegantly printed, in two octavo volumes, on fine wove paper, with a new and beautiful type.

It will be delivered to Subscribers, bound in calf, at Five Dollars; and in boards, at Four Dollars.—To non subscribers the price will be enhanced. No money will be required till the delivery of the work.

Those who subscribe for ten sets shall have one gratis. To booksellers the usual allowance will be made.

Portland, June 24—

☞ The above work will be printed from a correct London Edition—The few copies of an Iriſh Edition now circulating in this country are conſidered by the firſt law characters as extremely incorrect, and not to be relied on as hiſtorical authority.

In Council, Annapolis, May 16, 1805.

ORDERED, That the act to provide for the trial of facts in the ſeveral counties of this ſtate, and to alter, change and aboliſh, all ſuch parts of the conſtitution and form of government as relate to the general court and court of appeals, be publiſhed twice in each week for the ſpace of three months in the Maryland Gazette at Annapolis; the American, Telegraphe and the Federal Gazette at Baltimore; the National Intelligencer; the Republican Advocate and Bartgis's paper at Frederick-Town; Greeves's paper at Hagerſtown, and in Smith's and Cowan's paper at Eaſton.

By order,
NINIAN PINKNEY, Clerk.

AN ACT

To provide for the trial of facts in the several counties of this state, and to alter, change and abolish, all such parts of the constitution and forms of government as relate to the general court and court of appeals.

BE it enacted by the general aſſembly of Maryland, That this ſtate ſhall be divided into ſix judicial diſtricts in manner and form following to wit: St. Mary's, Charles and Prince George's counties, ſhall be the firſt diſtrict; Cæcil, Kent, Queen Anne's and Talbot counties, ſhall be the ſecond diſtrict, Calvert, Anne Arundel and Montgomery counties ſhall be the third diſtrict; Caroline, Dorcheſter, Somerſet and Worceſter counties, ſhall be the fourth diſtrict, Frederick, Waſhington and Allegany counties ſhall be the fifth diſtrict; Baltimore and Harford counties ſhall be the ſixth diſtrict; and there ſhall be appointed, for each of the ſaid judicial diſtricts, three perſons of integrity and ſound legal knowledge, reſidents of the ſtate of Maryland, who ſhall previous to and during their acting as judges, reſide in the diſtrict for which they ſhall reſpectively be appointed, one of whom ſhall be ſtyled in the commiſſion chief judge, and the other two aſſociate judges, of the diſtrict for which they ſhall be appointed; and the chief judge, together with the two aſſociate judges, ſhall compoſe the county courts in each reſpective diſtrict; and each judge ſhall hold his commiſſion during good behavior, removeable for miſbehavior on conviction in a court of law, or ſhall be removed by the governor, upon the addreſs of the general aſſembly, provided that two thirds of all the members of each houſe concur in ſuch addreſs; and the county courts, ſo as aforeſaid eſtabliſhed, ſhall have, hold and exerciſe, in the ſeveral counties of this ſtate, all and every the powers authorities and juriſdictions, which the county courts of this ſtate now have, uſe and exerciſe, and which ſhall be hereafter preſcribed by law; and the ſaid county courts eſtabliſhed by this act ſhall reſpectively hold their ſeſſions in the ſeveral counties at ſuch times and places as the legiſlature ſhall direct and appoint, and the ſalaries of the ſaid judges ſhall not be diminiſhed during the period of their continuance in office.

II. And be it enacted, That in any ſuit or action at law hereafter to be commenced or inſtituted in any county court of this ſtate, the judges thereof, upon ſuggeſtion in writing by either of the parties thereto, ſupported by affidavit or other proper evidence, that a fair and impartial trial cannot be had in the county court of the county where ſuch ſuit or action is depending, ſhall and may order and direct the record of their proceedings in ſuch ſuit or action to be tranſmitted to the judges of any county court within the diſtrict for trial, and the judges of ſuch county court, to whom the ſaid record ſhall be tranſmitted, ſhall hear and determine the ſame in like manner as if ſuch ſuit or action had been originally inſtituted therein; provided, nevertheleſs, that ſuch ſuggeſtion ſhall be made as aforeſaid before or during the term in which the iſſue or iſſues may be joined in the ſaid ſuit or action; and provided alſo, that ſuch further remedy may be provided by law, in the premiſes, as the legiſlature ſhall from time to time direct and enact.

III. And be it enacted, That if any party preſented or indicted in any of the county courts of this ſtate, ſhall ſuggeſt in writing to the court in which ſuch proſecution is depending, that a fair and impartial trial cannot be had in ſuch court, it ſhall and may be lawful for the ſaid court to order and direct the record of their proceedings in the ſaid proſecution to be tranſmitted to the judges of any adjoining county court for trial, and the judges of ſuch adjoining county court ſhall hear and determine the ſame in the ſame manner as if ſuch proſecution had been originally inſtituted therein; provided that ſuch further and other remedy may be provided by law in the premiſes as the legiſlature may direct and enact.

IV. And be it enacted, That if the attorney general, or the proſecutor for the ſtate, ſhall ſuggeſt in writing to any county conrt, before whom an indictment is or may be depending, that the ſtate cannot have a fair and impartial trial in ſuch court, it ſhall and may be lawful for the ſaid court, in their diſcretion, to order and direct the record of their proceedings in the ſaid proſecution to be tranſmitted to the judges of any adjoining county court for trial, and the judges of ſuch county court ſhall hear and determine the ſame as if ſuch proſecution had been originally inſtituted therein.

V. And be it enacted, That there ſhall be a court of appeals, and the ſame ſhall be compoſed of the chief judges of the ſeveral judicial diſtricts of the ſtate, which ſaid court of appeals ſhall hold, uſe and exerciſe, all and ſingular the powers, authoritities and juriſdictions, heretofore held, uſed and exerciſed, by the court of appeals of this ſtate, and alſo the appellate juriſdiction heretofore uſed and exerciſed by the general court; and the ſaid court of appeals hereby eſtabliſhed, ſhall ſit on the weſtern and eaſtern ſhores for tranacting and determining the buſineſs of the reſpective ſhores, at ſuch times and places as the future legiſlature of this ſtate ſhall direct and appoint, and any three of the ſaid judges of the court of appeals ſhall form a quorum to hear and decide in all caſe pending in ſaid court and the judge who has given a deciſion in any caſe in the county court, ſhall withdraw from the bench upon the deciding of the ſame caſe before the court of appeals; and the judges of the court of appeals may appoint the clerks of ſaid court for the weſtern and eaſtern ſhores reſpectively, who ſhall hold their appointments during good behavior, removeable only for miſbehavior on conviction in a court of law; and in caſe of death, reſignation, diſqualification or removal out of the ſtate, or from their reſpective ſhores, of either of the ſaid clerks in the vacation of the ſaid court, the governor, with the advice of the council, may appoint and commiſſion a fit and proper perſon to ſuch vacant office, to hold the ſame until the next meeting of the ſaid court; and all laws paſſed after this act ſhall take effect, ſhall be recorded in the office of the court of appeals of the weſtern ſhore.

VI. And be it enacted, That all and every part of the conſtitution and form of government which relates to the court of appeals and the general court, or the judges thereof, or that is in any manner repugnant to, or inconſiſtent with, the proviſions of this act, be and the ſame is hereby repealed, abrogated and annulled upon the confirmation hereof; provided, that nothing herein contained ſhall be conſtrued ſo as to authoriſe the removal of the clerks of the reſpective county courts being in commiſſion at the time of the paſſing of this act, in any other mode or manner than that preſcribed by the conſtitution and form of government.

VII. And be it enacted, That if this act ſhall be confirmed by the general aſſembly, after the next election of delegates, in the firſt ſeſſion after ſuch new election, as the conſtitution and form of government directs, that in ſuch caſe this act, and the alterations and amendments of the conſtitution and form of government therein contained, ſhall be taken and conſidered, and ſhall conſtitute and be valid, as a part of the ſaid conſtitution and form of goverment, to all intents and purpoſes, any thing in the ſaid conſtitution and form of government to the contrary, nowithſtanding.

PUBLIC SALE.

IN virtue of an order iſſued from the hon. court of Calvert county, will be offered at public ſale, on the 28th day of Auguſt next, (if fair, if not, the firſt fair day thereafter) at the late manſion of Benjamin Ward, deceaſed, at the hour of 12 o'clock, a valuable plantation, containing 184 acres of Land, lying on the Cheſapeake Bay, in Calvert county. The improvements are a ſmall dwelling houſe, kitchen, tobacco houſe, corn houſe, and other out houſes; a large orchard of fine fruit. This fertile ſpot has every advantage, it abounds in heavy timber, and has a great proportion of rich low ground, capable of being made into meadow at a very trifling expence. The ſoil is extremely rich—tobacco, wheat, rye, and Indian corn, grow with little labour—the neighbourhood affords a ſociety of very genteel and friendly people—places of worſhip ſurround it—convenient to mills, and a ware houſe for the inſpection of tobacco within two miles of the premiſes. This Land will be laid off in ſmall parcels, or ſold all together, as may beſt ſuit purchaſers.—Bond with approved ſecurity will be required, carrying intereſt from the day of ſale, payable in two equal payments, the firſt in 12, and the laſt in 18 months from the day of ſale.
