Ran away from the Subſcriber living near the Eaſtern Branch bridge, a negro woman of about 32 years of age of a middle ſtature, rather blacker than common, ſomewhat pitted with the ſmall pox about the noſe; ſhe has had liberty at different times to chooſe a maſter; ſhe has left a ſucking child, and I believe has contracted an acquaintance with a certain Cato Day, a black man who has worked ſome years paſt in the Navy Yard in the city of Waſhington. I have reaſon to believe ſhe is either harbored or concealed or rather conveyed from this place under him; ſhe has a change of clothing, therefore cannot be well deſcribed by her dreſs.

PROPOSALS

WILL be received at the Treasury till the 10th of June next inclusive, for building a light house on an island situate at the mouth of the River Mississippi, according to the designs and description prepared by B. H. Latrobe.

The light house to be a circular tower forming a truncated cone 27 feet diameter at the top of the basement, 12 feet diameter at the top of the platform, which forms the floor of the anthern, and 81 feet 7 inches high from the natural surface of the ground to the said platform. The foundation to be sunk 8 feet six inches below the surface of the ground, and 28 feet 6 inches in diameter, is to rest on piles driven 20 feet into the earth, and to consist of a reversed Cupola of brick of 25 feet external diameter, 7 feet 6 inches in depth, and bedded in a work of solid masonry, one foot thick above the piling, and which must fill the whole space dug for the foundation and not occupied by the said Cupola. A circular basement wall 3 feet 6 inches high, and 2 feet 3 inches wide to be built of well bonded broad rough stones upon the rim of the reversed Cupola, and upon the solid wall in which it is bedded. The exterior wall of the tower from the top of the basement is to be two feet thick, built of wrought free stones perfectly jointed and bedded, in no part less than two feet thick on the bed of each stone going quite through the wall, the exterior to be chissellied fair; the interior rough pointed. Six equidistant interior brick walls, two bricks and a half thick each, must be bonded with the external wall and extend within the tower, their interior end forming the well of the stair case which is 12 feet wide at the surface of the ground. Those buttress walls (which must be founded upon sprayed arches turned on a brick wall, erected on the rim of a smaller inversed Cupola turned within the larger one) to be united together at each revolution of the stairs, by brick splayed arches, forming the well of the staircase and extending to the external wall of the tower; and on the crown of those splayed arches, reversed arches must be turned, the reversed feet of which support the buttresses above. Those arches forming a succession of recesses rising with the spiral line of steps, will continue to the elevation of fifty feet; and thence upwards the interior lining of bricks is to be built solidly and well bonded with the external wall to the top of the tower, the three upper courses of free stones excepted, which are to go through the whole wall in single blocks. The spiral staircase 12 feet diameter at the surface of the ground, and 8 feet diameter at the top of the tower is to consist of 133 steps of Pennsylvania marble with a 9 inches newell supported on a capped free stone pillar, resting on the centre of the foundation Cupola; the other ends of the steps to be supported by, and to go six inches into the brick buttresses and arches above described. A marble platform to cover that part of the Cupola which is not occupied by the first stairs; and the platform which forms the floor of the lantern to consist of ten slabs of marble well jointed together and projecting three inches beyond the upper course of free stone. The entrance into the lantern to be through a sheet iron door sliding on rollers. The lantern 8 feet 6 inches diameter, and 9 feet 6 inches high, is to be fixed in its place by 12 strong iron bars, worked solidly six feet six inches into the wall and secured at the lower end by strong cross bolts one foot in length, with a screw six inches long above the stone work. The twelve corner posts of the lantern to be also iron bars, turned with a flat foot through which the screws of the anchor bars must pass and be strongly fastened to the nuts; their upper ends being morticed into a strong circular iron ring, upon which the iron rafters are rivetted. The rafters to be also framed into an iron hoop with a copper funnel and a large copper ventilator above turned by a vane. The space between the corner posts to be occupied by strong iron sashes glazed with 10 by 12 glass of the first quality, and one of the sashes to be hung on hinges for a door to go out on the platform which is to be surrounded by iron ballustrades 3 feet high with a rail and a strong wire netting carried from the rail to the eaves of the lantern. The necessary lamp or lamps, either suspended by iron chains or supported on iron feet; and a close stove be placed in the lantern.

The building to be painted black, to be provided with two complete electrical rods with gilt points; and to have one door, and at each revolution of stairs two opposite windows 2 feet by 9 inches.

The keeper's dwelling house to be erected round the basis of the tower forming a concentric circular building entirely of brick, and of 60 feet external diameter, including that of the tower. The foundation sunk 4 feet, to rest on piles driven 20 feet into the earth, and to be 2 and a half bricks thick, continuing of that thickness 3 feet 6 inches above the ground. The wall to rise 10 feet higher 2 bricks thick, to be connected with the external wall of the light house by nine partition brick walls and to have internal brick piers from which at the elevation of six feet above the base wall spring arches against the body of the light house: and on the top of these carriage arches segment arches must be turned all round the building. The house to be furnished with two stacks of chimnies, and to have twelve external doors or windows, and also internal doors communicating from one room to another; and the internal walls and ceilings to be plaistered.

A circular piazza ten feet wide, to be erected round the dwelling house, resting on a foundation brick wall of one and a half brick thick, sunk five feet below the ground rising three feet above the same and coped with free stone; into which 24 cast iron pillars 8 feet 8 inches high are to be fixed. The piazza to have two porches formed by arched brick walls connecting it with the dwelling house.

On the top of the pillars, plates are to be laid framed together and supporting a ceiling floor. A framed roof covered with cypress shingles, to cover both the dwelling house and piazza. The interval between the walls of the piazza of the dwelling house and of the light house, to be filled with the rubbish, sand or earth, as high as the top of the base wall; and both the piazza and dwelling house to be paved with brick.

All the bricks to be sound Philadelphia bricks.

A more particular written description and drawings of the building may be seen by applying at the Treasury in Washington, or to Mr. Latrobe at Philadelphia.

Separate proposals will also be received for the freight of not more than 800 tons of stone, either from the Delaware and Potomac, and of not more than 250,000 bricks from Philadelphia to the mouth of the Mississippi. The stones and bricks to be delivered within the bar will be received on board of lighters.

Waſhington, July 26—tf

AN ACT,

Supplementary to the act intituled "An act making provision for the redemption of the whole of the public debt of the United States."

WHEREAS it is desirable to adapt the nature of the provision for the redemption of the public debt to the present circumstances of the United States, which can only be done by a voluntary subscription on the part of the creditors.

Sec. 1. BE it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America, in Congress assembled, That a ſubſcription to the full amount of the old ſix per cent. deferred and three per cent ſtocks be, and the ſame is hereby propoſed; for which purpoſe books ſhall be opened at the Treaſury of the United States, and by the ſeveral commiſſioners of loans, on the firſt day of July next, to continue open until the ſeventeenth day of March next following, incluſively the fourteen laſt days of each quarter excepted, for ſuch parts of the abovementioned deſcriptions of ſtock, as ſhall, on the day of ſubſcription, ſtand on the books of the treaſury, and of the ſeveral commiſſioners of loans, reſpectively, which ſubſcription ſhall be effected by a transfer to the United States, in the manner provided by law for ſuch transfers, of the credit or credits, ſtanding on the ſaid books, and by a ſurrender of the certificates of the ſtock ſubſcribed.

Sec. 2. And be it further enacted, That for the whole or any part of any ſum which ſhall thus be ſubſcribed, in old ſix per cent. or deferred ſtock, credits ſhall be entered to the reſpective ſubſcribers, and the ſubſcriber or ſubſcribers ſhall be entitled to a certificate, or certificates, purporting that the United States owe to the holder or holders thereof, his, her or their aſſigns, a ſum to be expreſſed therein, equal to the amount of principal of the ſtock thus ſubſcribed, which ſhall remain unredeemed on the day of ſuch ſubſcription, bearing an intereſt of ſix per centum per annum, payable quarter-yearly from the firſt day of the quarter, during which ſuch ſubſcription ſhall have been made, transferable in the ſame manner as is provided by law for the transfers of the ſtock ſubſcribed and ſubject to redemption at the pleaſure of the United States: PROVIDED That no ſingle certificate ſhall be iſſue for an amount greater than ten thouſand dollars: AND PROVIDED FURTHER, That no reimburſement ſhall be made except for the whole amount of any ſuch new certificate nor till after at leaſt ſix months previous public notice of ſuch intended reimburſement.

Sec. 3. And be it further enacted, That for the whole or any part of any ſum which ſhall thus be ſubſcribed in three per cent. ſtock credits ſhall likewiſe be entered to the reſpective ſubſcribers; and the ſubſcriber, or ſubſcribers, ſhall be entitled to a certificate purporting that the United States owe to the holder or holders thereof, his, her or their aſſigns, a ſum to be expreſſed therein equal to ſixty five per centum of the amount of principal of the ſtock thus ſubſcribed, bearing an intereſt of ſix per centum, per annum, payable quarter yearly, from the firſt day of the quarter during which ſuch ſubſcription ſhall have been made, and transferable and ſubject to redemption in the ſame manner, and under the ſame regulations and reſtrictions, as the ſtock created by the preceding ſection of this act: PROVIDED, That no part of the ſtock thus created ſhall be reimburſable, without the aſſent of the holder or holders of ſuch ſtock, until after the whole of the eight per cent and four and a half per cent. ſtocks, as well as all the ſix per cent. ſtock which may be created by virtue of the preceding ſection, ſhall have been redeemed.

Sec. 4. And be it further enacted, That the commiſſioners of the ſinking fund ſhall be, and they are hereby authoriſed to appoint an agent in London, and another in Amſterdam whoſe duty it ſhall be to receive ſubſcriptions and transfers, and to iſſue new certificates in the manner, and at the times abovementioned, and as the officers of the treaſury department, or the commiſſioners of loans might do; that is to ſay, the agent in London, in favor of ſuch ſtock holders reſiding in the dominions of Great Britain in Europe, and the agent in Amſterdam in favor of ſuch ſtock-holders reſiding in any other part of Europe, as may reſpectively become ſubſcribers: Provided, That the certificates iſſued by the ſaid agents, ſhall bear intereſt only from the firſt day of the quarter next ſucceeding that in which the ſubſcription ſhall have taken place, and that in relation to ſubſcriptions made in old ſix per cent. or deferred ſtocks, the ſums expreſſed in ſuch new certificates ſhall be equal to the amount of the principal of the old ſix per cent. or deferred ſtocks thus ſubſcribed, which ſhall remain unredeemed after payment of the dividend payable on ſuch ſtock, on that day from which the intereſt on the new certificates ſhall commence. The foreign ſtock holders thus ſubſcribing with either of the ſaid agents, ſhall be entitled to receive the dividend in the old ſix per cent. deferred, or three per cent. ſtock ſubſcribed by them, reſpectively, which ſhall be payable on that day, from which the intereſt on the new certificates ſhall commence. And it ſhall be the duty of the ſaid agents, reſpectively, to tranſmit, before the end of each quarter, to the regiſter of the treaſury, and to the ſeveral commiſſioners of loans reſpectively, triplicate abſtracts of the certificates of ſtock ſubſcribed, and of the new certificates iſſued by them, during ſuch quarter in order that the proper credits may be entered on the books of the treaſury, and of the commiſſioners of loans, as the caſe may be, to the holders of ſuch new certificates. And the ſaid agents before they enter upon the execution of their ſeveral offices, ſhall, reſpectively take an oath or affirmation for the diligent and faithful execution of their truſt, and ſhall alſo become bound with one or more ſureties to the ſatisfaction of the commiſſioners of the ſinking fund, or of the ſecretary of the treaſury in the penal ſum of twenty thouſand dollars, with condition for their good behavior in their ſaid offices.

Sec. 5. And be it further enacted, That the holders of old ſix per cent. deferred, or three per cent ſtock who may become ſubſcribers, as aforeſaid, either in the United States, or in Europe, and who on the firſt day of July next, and alſo on the day of the ſubſcription, ſhall be reſident in Europe, may, at their option, which muſt be made at the time of ſubſcribing, receive the intereſt accruing on the ſtock created by virtue of the preceding ſections of this act, either in the United States, as other creditors, or at London, or Amſterdam: that is to ſay, the ſtock holders reſiding, at the times abovementioned, in the dominions of Great Britain in Europe, at London, and at the rate of four ſhillings and ſix pence ſterling, for each dollar; and the ſtock holders reſiding, at the times abovementioned, in any other part of Europe, at Amſterdam, and at the rate of two guilders and a half guilder, current money of Holland for each dollar: in which laſt mentioned option the condition ſhall be expreſſed in the new certificates to be iſſued and the credit or credits, to be given to the proprietors thereof, ſhall be entered and ſhall thereafter be transferable only on the books of the treaſury: Provided, however, That the intereſt thus payable in London and Amſterdam, ſhall not be payable until the expiration of ſix calender months from the day on which the ſame would be payable in the United States, and ſhall be ſubject to a deduction of one half of one per cent on the amount payable for commiſſion to the bankers paying the ſame: And provided alſo, That every proprietor of ſuch ſtock may, on ſurrendering his certificate, receive another to the ſame amount, the intereſt whereof ſhall be payable quarter yearly in the United States in the ſame manner as that accruing on the ſtock held by perſons reſiding in the United States.

Sec. 6. And be it further enacted, That the same funds which heretofore have been, and now are, pledged, by law, for the payment of the interest, & for the redemption or reimbursement of the stock which may be subscribed by virtue of the provisions of this act, shall remain pledged for the payment of interest accruing on the stock created by reason of such subscription, and for the redemption or reimbursement of the principal of the same. It shall be the duty of the commissioners of the sinking fund to cause to be applied, and paid out of the said fund, yearly, and every year, such sum, and sums, as may be annually wanted to discharge the annual interest and charges accruing on the stock which may be created by virtue of this act. The said commissioners are hereby authorised to apply, from time to time, such sum and sums, out of the said fund, as they may think proper, towards redeeming, by purchase, or by reimbursement, in conformity with the provisions of this act, the principal of the said stock. And the annual sum of eight millions of dollars, vested by law in the said commissioners, shall be, and continue appropriated to the payment of interest and redemption of the public debt, until the whole of the stock which may be created by the preceding sections of this act, shall have been redeemed, or reimbursed.

Sec. 7. And be it further enacted, That there shall be allowed to each of the agents to be appointed by virtue of this act, in addition to the necessary expenses incurred by them, for printing, stationary, and postage, a sum of three thousand dollars, as a full compensation for their services. The said agents, and the commissioners of loans, shall also be allowed such additional sum as may be actually and necessarily expended for the clerk-hire requisite for carrying this act into effect. And for defraying the said compensations and allowances, and such other contingent charges as may be incurred for carrying this act into effect, a sum not exceeding sixteen thousand dollars, to be paid out of any monies in the treasury, not otherwise appropriated, is hereby appropriated.

Sec. 8. And be it further enacted, That whensoever notice of reimbursement shall be given, as prescribed by the second and third sections of this act, the certificates intended to be reimbursed, shall be designated therein. In every reimbursement the preference shall be given to such holders of certificates as, previously to the said notice, shall have notified in writing to the treasury department their wish to be reimbursed. If there should not be applications to the treasury sufficient to require the payment of the whole sum to be applied to that purpose, the secretary of the treasury, after paying off all sums for the payment of which applications shall have been made, shall determine by lot what other certificates shall be reimbursed so as to make up the whole amount to be discharged:—and in case the applications shall exceed the amount to be discharged, the secretary of the treasury shall proceed to determine by lot what applications shall be entitled to priority of payment.

SEC. 9. And be it further enacted, That the agents appointed by virtue of this act, and the several commissoners of loans, shall observe and perform such directions and regulations, as shall be perscribed to them by the secretary of the treasury, touching the execution of this act.

SEC 10. And be it further enacted, That nothing in this act contained shall be construed, in anywise, to alter, bridge, or impair, the rights of those creditors of the United States, who shall not subscribe to the loan created by virtue of this act.
