

the seminary of Miss C. A. Gregg, and afterward studied a year at Mt. Holyoke. After the family residence was removed to Melrose, Mass., she became specially fond of the art of landscape and portrait painting.

After many most accurate efforts in her art she visited Europe alone to perfect her skill, remaining more than two years in Paris. She returned home in 1888. Her beautiful works adorn the homes of many of her friends and admirers. She is a lady of culture and genuine worth, of unselfish and charming disposition. She has a studio in Boston.

Samuel Andrews, b. Jan. 22, 1806, m. in Londonderry, June 6, 1862, Lavinia Hobart Pillsbury, b. in Hebron, Nov. 8, 1818, daughter of Rev. Stephen and Lavinia (Hobart) Pillsbury. He succeeded to the homestead of his father, Nathan Andrew, and took care of his father and mother in their declining years till their death. Early in life he taught district and singing schools in various neighborhoods. Besides farming he was part owner of the saw- and grist-mill at Bradford Mills. He also manufactured brick, his yard being for some time the only one in this region. His residence was the first one in town built of brick. His primeval woods were the last in town to contribute in considerable numbers great pine masts for the ships of the sea. He was an indefatigable worker, and a most devoted son, brother, and father. He was ever thoughtful of the welfare of the children of his deceased sister, Mrs. John Eaton, and gave the youngest, Charles Eaton, a home with him. A few years before the death of his wife he moved to Concord, for the purpose of educating his daughters. Mrs. Andrews was a lady of marked refinement and literary taste, and of a sweet and gentle disposition.
