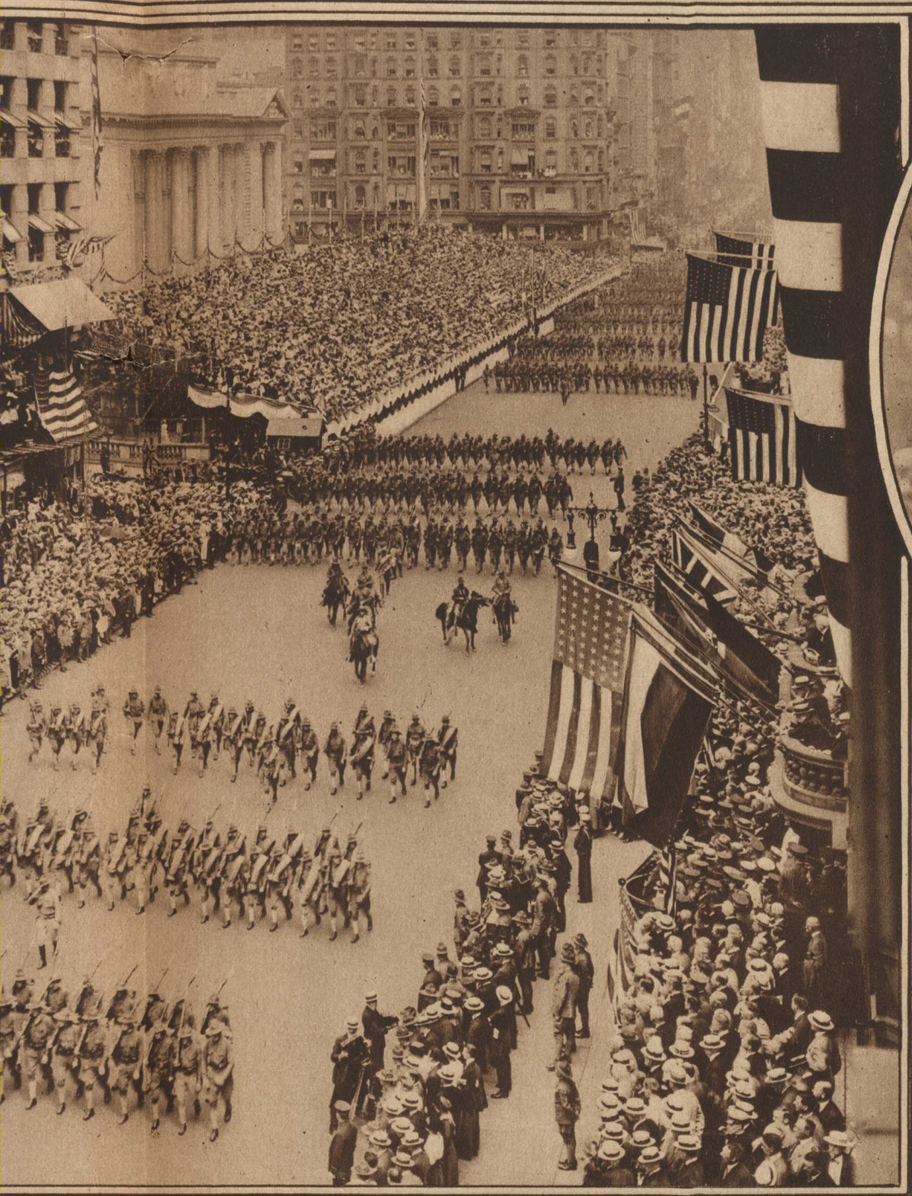
O NEW YORK TROOPS OFF FOR THE WAR



THE OFFICIAL REVIEWING STANDS AT THE NEW YORK PUBLIC LIBRARY AND THE UNION LEAGUE CLUB. (M. Rosenfeld.)

MAJOR-GEN. J. F. O'RYAN,
Commander of the Twenty-seventh Division of the United States Army, Into Which the National Guard Organizations of the State Have Been United, Leading the Entire Parade.

(Paul Thompson.)

LITTLE GIRLS HIGH UP ON FIFTH AVENUE BALCONY WAVING TO THE SOLDIERS PASSING BELOW. (Times Photo Service.)

LITTLE GIRL DARTS THROUGH THE POLICE LINES TO SLIP A PACKAGE OF CIGARETTES INTO THE HAND OF A SOLDIER. (Times Photo Service.)

(© Inter. Film Service, Inc.)

COLONEL CORNELIUS VANDERBILT, OF THE TWENTY-SECOND ENGINEERS, AT THE HEAD OF HIS COMMAND.

THE SECOND INFANTRY SWINGING DOWN FIFTH AVENUE, NORTH OF FIFTY-NINTH STREET.

DEPARTING TROOPS SWINGING THROUGH THE WASHINGTON ARCH, WASHINGTON SQUARE, AT THE LOWER END OF FIFTH AVENUE. (© Underwood & Underwood.)