New York, Jan. 13.

About one o'clock this morning, the ship Cato, Snow, arrived in 40 days passage from Liverpool. Captain Snow has obligingly favored the Edi- tor of the Mercantile Advertiser with London papers to the 26th Nov. from which the following articles are extracted.

LONDON, Nov. 25.

We are still without any arrivals from the continent either of French papers or Hamburg mails.

Government has at length received dispatches, announcing the disembarka- tion at Cuxhaven of the troops sent out under the command of gen. Don. They were brought by the Leopard, of 50 guns, which, after convoying the trans- ports to the Elbe, returned to the Downs on Friday. The fleet, consisting of near- ly 90 sail, arrived in the Elbe on Friday se'nnight, and the troops and horses were landed with all possible dispatch. Although the expedition experienced some heavy gales, the men were disem- barked in excellent health and spirits. The most sanguine hopes are entertain- ed that the force sent out will be aug- mented by a numerous body of Hanove- rians, for the levy of which large boun- ties were to be given, and a supply of arms and cloathing was sent by the ex- pedition.

The second expedition destined for the continent is expected to sail in the course of a fortnight.

We are still in a state of uncertainty respecting the part which Prussia may ultimately take. Letters from Berlin have brought the important intelligence that count Haugwitz, one of the cabi- net ministers, left that capital on the 11th, for the head quarters of Bonapar- te, for the purpose, as it is stated, of re- newing propositions for the re-establish- ment of a general peace. This mission is stated to have been concerted between the emperor of Russia and king of Prussia at Potsdam, and to have taken place with the consent of the emperor of Germany.

Government has determined to send to the continent the greatest British force that has ever been employed in Germany. The expedition under the command of gen. Don, will be followed by at least 50,000 troops, of which one fifth will be cavalry.

The duke of York has actually been appointed commander in chief of all our forces on the continent, and the duke of Cambridge is to have the chief com- mand of the cavalry—under the duke of York of course.

The Brest fleet was still in port, watch- ed by Cornwallis.

We are assured by a person connect- ed with the Prussian legation, that the Prussian troops in readiness for service, who are assembling at different points, amount to nearly 250,000 men.—It is ad- ded, that count Haugwitz, in the event of Bonaparte being willing to entertain the terms proposed to him by the cabi- net of Berlin, for the restoration of peace, is to demand a general suspension of arms.

We hear, on the authority of a letter from Munich, dated the 2d inst. that a strong Gallo Bavarian corps had by a circuitous march, turned the important pass of Scharnitz in the Tyrol. It is also mentioned, that a body of Austrian troops carried into Bohemia by the arch- duke Ferdinand had made a successful incursion into the neighborhood of Hers- chaw, and made 400 prisoners.

Bonaparte, anxious to draw all his troops from the south of Italy, has ac- knowledged the neutrality of Etruria as well as of Naples. Some English ves- sels had, in consequence, sailed from Malta for Leghorn.

A new levy of 120,000 men has been ordered in the Austrian states; and the roads from Vienna to the army are crowded with reinforcements from Hun- gary and Bohemia.

The elector of Bavaria is resolved to accompany Bonaparte on his march;—he first joined him at Muhldorff, and has since moved with the head quarters.
