ABOUT 2000 acres of land on the Eaſt ſide of the Eaſtern Branch, and adjoining it, three miles from the city of Waſhington. Veſſels drawing 12 feet water may load at the landing, where there is a tolerable good fiſhery,

Near 400 acres of this land is a rich bottom through which there are ſeveral ſtreams of water, that turn a mill, erected on the land, and which might be uſed to advantage, in watering meadow: a part of the bottom is now in Timothy graſs and the whole is capable of producing graſs in abundance, and tobacco There may be between five and ſix hundred acres in wood, the reſt is cleared land.
