from the settlements on the lakes. But from the best information, we may be assured, they are given as exactly as possible in the foregoing table, and that the exportations to Canada are increased every year. It is but a short time since the Red river has been explored, and little yet has imperfectly known; however this year four great expeditions have been made, which, according to appearances, will swell the products to an immense sum.

After leaving the river des Moens, the fur trade from the upper Mississippi is carried on entirely by English traders, and almost the whole of the fur, which is obtained from other Indian tribes, sent to Canada, where they consumed much higher price than at New Orleans; where, in fact, there is no demand for them. It is self-evident to whoever the fur trade north we go, the greater the value of the peltries. The prices affixed in the foregoing table are those of the Illinois; had the London prices been given, we should be astonished at the immense sums which the Mississippi yields to the English nation. It is but a few years fince peltries have been exported from America by way of the Ohio; it is to Mr Gallatin that the eastern part of America should encourage this exportation, by raising the prices of peltries nearly to those of Canada.

The table of the peltries from the Mississippi is exact, having been taken from notes made during fifteen successive years of all the peltries exported from this river.

RECESSION. On Wednesday the debate on resuming the difficult of Georgia, was resumed in the Senate of Representatives, at an early hour, and continued until the usual hour of adjournment, when the committee rose, and obtained leave to sit again. Messrs Rose and Dawson spoke in favour, and Messrs Lewis, Thomas, Taggart, Bayard, W. Campbell and G. Gilbert against the resolutions.

On Thursday Messrs. Rhea of Tenn. and Smilie advocated, and Messrs. Lewis, Hogan, Gardenier and M. Williams opposed the resolutions;—the question relative was taken on agreeing to the 5th resolution, by recording that yesterday difficult formerly attached to Virginia and passed in the negative—Ayes 42—Noes 62.

The question was then taken on the second resolution, by recording that part of the difficult, excepting the city of Washington, formerly attached to Maryland, and passed in the negative—Ayes 42—Noes 62.

The committee then rose, and reported their disagreement to the resolutions.

The House immediately took the report into consideration. Mr. Dennis spoke in favor of the resolutions, and Messrs Allen, Bidlington, Stanford, Holland and Smilie against.

When the question was taken by Yeas and Nays on agreeing to that part of the report which involved a disagreement to the 5th resolution, and carried affirmatively—Yeas 72—Nays 42.

Mr. Smilie moved to amend the second resolution by striking out the words "within the limits of the city of Washington," so that the city, as well as the other part of the difficult, might be recorded.

Only twenty one members rising in favor of this motion, it was lost.

The question was then taken by Yeas and Nays on agreeing to the report of the committee, involving a disagreement to the second resolution, and carried affirmatively—Yeas 69—Nays 39.

The question was then taken on agreeing to the whole report of the committee, and carried—Ayes 80—Noes 28.

Mr. Elliot is re-elected a Representative of Vermont.

George Clinton, junior, the son of the Vice-President elect, is chosen a Representative in the Congress of the United States, to supply the vacancy occasioned by the resignation of Dr. Mitchill, for two years from the 3d of next March.

The bill for incorporating the Union Bank of Maryland has passed the house of delegates, with the modification made by the Senate. The bill for incorporating the turnpike roads has also passed both houses.

The following is the Affidavit of Judge Chase, preferred to the Senate on the 23 inftant:

City of Washington, ss:

Samuel Chase made each on the holy evangels of Almighty God, that it is not in his power to obtain information refpecting the facts alledged in the articles of impeachment to have taken place in the city of Philadelphia, in the trial of John Fries; or of the facts alledged to have taken place, in the city of Richmond, in the trial of James T. Callender, in time to prepare and put in his anfwer, and to proceed to trial, with any probability that the fame could be finished on or before the 6th day of March next. And further, that it is not in his power to procure information of the names of the witnefles, whom he thinks it may be proper and neceffary for him to fummon, in time to obtain their attendance, if his anfwer could be prepared in time fufficient for the finishing of the faid trial, before the faid 6th day of March next: and the faid Samuel Chafe further made oath, that he believes it will not be in his power to obtain the advice of counfel, to prepare his anfwer, and to give him their affistance on the trial, which he thinks neceffary, if the faid trial fhould take place during the prefent feffion of Congress—and that he verily believes, if he had at this time, full information of facts, and of the witnefles proper for him to fummon, and if he had alfo the affistance of counfel, that he could not prepare the anfwer, he thinks he ought to put in, and be ready for his trial, with in the space of four or five weeks from this time. And further, that his application to the honourable the Senate, for time to obtain information of facts, in order to prepare his anfwer, and for time to procure the attendance of neceffary witnefles, and to prepare for his defence in the trial, and to obtain the advice and affistance of counfel, made for the purpose of delay, but only for the purpose of obtaining a full hearing of the articles of impeachment against him, in their real merits.

SAMUEL CHASE.

By an arrival from London at Charleston.—

On the 23d inftant, the city of Bremen had three fafe inftalments of 100,000 dollars to the French. It is faid to be ascertained that Schimmelpenning will enter on his office of President of Hollaud on the 20 inft. with extenfive powers and authority, and that he is for this attention to pay to Bonaparte's family in the courfe of ten years, fifty millions of florins—Refitance is not to be with France, as he is unanimously prononged.

The late Hamburg mails, all that were due, arrived this morning. The French and Dutch papers bav ,ar.rived, anticipated ptic intelligence brought by them.

Difcouraging accounts from Italies in Confiantinople, and has been manifefted in the usual way, feiling fire to parts of the capital.

An article from Conftantinople of the 10th inft. fays, "A fire of eight hours continuance has to-day laid in ashes five mofques, and about one thousand houfes. In the night of the 7th, a large village in the vicinity of the capital, principally inhabited by Jews, was likewife burned."

An article of the 23d ult. adds, "the late difcoftfion fire which laid the village of Jephous had left a military barracks in ashes, is attributed to the difcontent of the populace, on account of the fcarcity of bread. The Janiffaries likewife have not received their pay for four times."

The Ruffians are rapidly increafing their force in the Seven Iflands.—A Ruffian 64 with troops, arrived in the Dardanelles on the 7th Sept.

We receive this morning the Paris papers to the 21ft, and the Dutch to the 24th. Bonaparte has deferred his coronation to the 25th of November; the preparation could not be completed by the 9th, on the 10th it was Bonaparte the day on which it was at firft intended that the ceremony fhould take place.—The Legislative Body has been convoked for the 22d of next month, to affift at the coronation, and Bonaparte is to go to Fontainbleau to meet the Pope, and conduct him to Paris.

The Moniteur that announces the poftponement of the imperial coronation at Paris, contains the account of the ceremony to be delivered at Vienna on the 18 of next month, on account of the accefftion of his Imperial Majefty to the hereditary Imperial dignity of Auftria.

The Dutch papers to the 24th inft. do not furnish us with any intelligence with refpect to the intended changes in the Dutch Conftitution.

The journey of the Pope, (who is now recovered from his indifpofition) to Paris, will be by Florence, Bologna, Alexandria, &c. where all the neceffary preparations are made for his reception.

The accounts from Venice ftate, that the Ruffians are collecting a great quantity of artillery and fafcines, not lefs than 15,000 in number, in the Republic of the Seven Iflands, where fire generally, befides difcifiles was has the principal command, already arrived.
