PENNSYLVANIA HOUSE
AND MYER'S CITY TAVERN.

THE Subſcriber reſpectfully acquaints his friends and the public in general that he has removed from his old tavern ſtand, to the adjoining houſes on the Pennſylvania avenue, lately occupied by Mrs. Wilſon as a boarding-houſe, and Mr. Woodward's tavern, in which he is now opening a Complete Hotel. This ſtand is probably not excelled by any in the city, either for the accommodation of travellers or boarders; being at a convenient and almoſt equal diſtance from the Capitol, the Preſident's Houſe, and Public Offices; near the Theatre, Meſſrs. Way's Printing Office, and Centre Market, oppoſite the office of the National Intelligencer, and adjoining Mr. Duane's book ſtore. Theſe houſes contain twenty-ſix lodging rooms with fire places, excluſive of dining, bar, aſſembly, and coffee rooms, ſervants apartments, &c. The celebrated ridge ſpring is conveyed in pipes to the yard of this hotel, where it ſupplies the whole neighborhood with flowing, cool water, to which the general health of this part of the city has in a great meaſure been attributed. The ſtabling of the hotel now erected is conſiderable; more however will be completed before the meeting of Congreſs.

I now beg leave to inform my friends with confidence, that my prices ſhall be as heretofore, correſponding with Pennſylvania tavern rates, and in proportion as my elbow room has increaſed my diſpoſition to pleaſe ſhall be enlarged: I therefore reſpectfully hope the continuance of a ſhare of the public patronage.

1500 DOLLARS REWARD.

HIGHWAY ROBBERY.

YESTERDAY about 11 o'clock in the forenoon, Mr. JOHN PETER, an Officer of the BANK OF COLUMBIA, was ſtopped on horſeback on the road between this town and Alexandria, and within about 2 miles of the latter place, by ſome unknown villain, ſhot through the body with a piſtol, and robbed of a ſum of money in his poſſeſſion belonging to this Inſtitution which he was taking to Alexandria, for the purpoſe of exchanging with the banks there.

The whole ſum taken amounted Eighteen Thouſand One hundred and Fourteen Dollars and Sixty-five Cents, made up in ſeveral packages, among which were,

		Dol. C
1 poſt note of the Bank of Virginia,	for	800
1 do.	of the ſame, for	500
1 do.	of the ſame, for	500
1 do.	of the ſame, for	450
1 do.	of the Bank of Potomac in favor of Joſeph Riddle by him endorſed to Waſhington Bowie, dated 6 July, 1805 No 117	149 65

A check of the Union Bank, on the Bank of Alexandria, drawn by R. Higinbotham, caſhier, in favor of Greetham and Deverau, by them endorſed and by Benj. Stoddert, and C. Smith, Teller.

There were alſo a parcel of poſt notes of the Bank of Alexandria for 100 dolls. and for 50 dolls. each. The remainder was in current notes, principally of the banks of Alexandria and Potomac, and ſome few of the Bank of Virginia of different ſizes and denominations.

As the attack was ſudden, and the wound received of a nature to deprive Mr. Peter inſtantly of his ſenſes, (although it is now hoped he will recover) the deſcription obtained may not be very accurate—As far as we are are informed—the man who perpetrated the act, is of middle ſtature, good countenance, and had a genteel appearance. He had on a dark blue or black coat, nankeen pantaloons, ſhoes, and a black hat, he was on foot and alone at the time, but may have had accomplices concealed, and will probably change his clothes.

FIVE HUNDRED DOLLARS will be given to any perſon or perſons, who will detect and bring to conviction the robber: and ONE THOUSAND DOLLARS additional for the recovery of the whole of the money, or in proportion for any ſmaller ſum recovered—ſhould there be accomplices, and one of them make a diſcovery, ſo that it leads to the conviction of the robber, or to the recovery of the money he ſhall receive the above reward, and intereſt will be made to obtain his pardon.

SULLIVAN's LECTURES,

PROPOSALS

By THOMAS B. WAIT & Co.

FOR PRINTING, BY SUBSCRIPTION,

AN HISTORICAL TREATISE

ON THE

FEUDAL LAW,

AND THE

CONSTITUTION AND LAWS OF ENGLAND;

With a Commentary on Magna Charta, and Illustrations of many of the English Statutes.

BY THE LATE

FRANCIS STOUGHTON SULLIVAN, L. L. D.
Royal Professor of Common Law in the University of Dublin.

To which authorities are added, and a Diſcourſe is prefixed, concerning the Laws and Government of England,

BY GILBERT STUART, L. L. D.

THE Lectures of Profeſſor Sullivan, delivered to the Students in the Univerſity of Dublin, are in very high repute among all Lawyers of eminence, and have been uniformly recommended as an elementary book to thoſe young gentlemen who begin the ſtudy of Law with a view to render themſelves reſpectable in the profeſſion.

However obſolete the feudal policy may now ſeem to be, it having gradually diſappeared as mankind grew more civilized and became better acquainted with their natural and inalienable rights and privileges; yet a reſearch into the hiſtory of the government of juriſprudence of the nations of Europe, will ſatisfy any one, that many conſequences of that ſyſtem ſtill exiſt and influence the opinions and deciſions of the higheſt and moſt enlightened tribunals of juſtice. Every author who has undertaken to give a regular and ſyſtematic account of the riſe and progreſs of modern nations, has felt himſelf obliged to reſort to the hiſtory of feuds and feudal rights, as the fundamental principle from which all exiſting civil and political inſtitutions have taken their riſe; and every juriſt who has employed himſelf in explaining the conſtitution and laws of his country, has gone to the ſame ſource for the correct materials of his eſſays and diſſertations. Robertſon, in his hiſtory of the Emperor Charles V. has with great beauty and perſpicuity illuſtrated ſo much of the feudal policy as was neceſſary to enable the ſcientific reader to underſtand that valuable book; and Sir Wm. Blackſtone has in the courſe of his commentaries, led the ſtudent to a contemplation of the ancient tenures, many of which depend upon the doctrine of feuds, as eſtabliſhed in England by the Norman conqueror.

But in both thoſe invaluable productions, the feudal policy was adverted to, only as incidental to the principal object of the authors, and therefore cannot be ſuppoſed to furniſh ſo complete and ſatisfactory an account, as would be given by ſo diſtinguiſhed a lawyer as profeſſor Sullivan, who declares the great purpoſe of his lectures to be 'the full diſcuſſion of the ſubject, which was of neceſſity but partially conſidered by the other writers.

This work has become ſo ſcarce in this country, as to be ſeldom ſeen, even on the ſhelves of a practiſing lawyer; a fact to be accounted for only by the difficulty of obtaining the book: for it cannot well be ſuppoſed that any one of the profeſſion, who has higher views than the mere pecuniary advantages of the practiſe, would willingly neglect an enquiry into thoſe ancient inſtitutions, upon which, notwithſtanding the lapſe of ages, moſt modern improvements are founded. But it is not to the profeſſion alone, that this book may be conſidered uſeful. In this riſing empire, where political knowledge to a certain degree is claimed by all, and actually poſſeſſed by many; a book which ſuccinctly and perſpicuouſly brings to view the laws, inſtitutions, manners and cuſtoms of thoſe nations from which our Engliſh anceſtors deſcended, muſt be peculiarly uſeful as it will enable young politicians to trace all our civil regulations to their ſource, and thus to account methodically and ſcientifically for many modern uſages and practiſes, of which their knowledge is extremely ſuperficial. In this book they will ſee how our anceſtors ſtruggled for the eſtabliſhment of thoſe privileges which artful monarchs and a proud nobility were continually attempting to deſtroy; and they will alſo learn that the perſevering induſtry of the people, aided by the wealth which their ſkill and enterprize brought into the country, finally obtained a complete victory in the eſtabliſhment of principles and cuſtoms, which, tranſplanted into America by our progenitors, terminated in thoſe glorious conſtitutions which diſtinguiſh the people of America, for liberty and happineſs, from every other people on the earth.

CONDITIONS.

The work shall be elegantly printed, in two octavo volumes, on fine wove paper, with a new and beautiful type. It will be delivered to Subscribers, bound in calf, at Five Dollars; and in boards, at Four Dollars.—To non-subscribers the price will be enhanced. No money will be required till the delivery of the work.

Those who subscribe for ten sets shall have one gratis. To booksellers the usual allowance will be made.

Portland, June 24—

☞ The above work will be printed from a correct London Edition—The few copies of an Iriſh Edition now circulating in this country are conſidered by the firſt law characters as extremely incorrect, and not to be relied on by hiſtorical autority.
