INTRODUCTION TO WORKING DRAFT

1. Background

The National Union Index to Architectural Records is the result of cooperative efforts by people and institutions throughout the country to locate and record the locations of architectural records. Begun in 1973 by the New York based Committee for the Preservation of Architectural Records (COPAR), it was given to the Library of Congress in 1983 when the Committee's work was assumed by the Library's Prints and Photographs Division. In the Spring of 1983 the Index was automated on the Library's main frame computer. When final editing of the data base has been achieved, it is the Library's intention to publish the Index and make it available nationwide. New information and revisions of existing entries will ensure that the Index is kept up-to-date.

2. Acknowledgements

The basic format of entries in the National Union Index to Architectural Records was developed by the New York based Committee for the Preservation of Architectural Records under the direction of Catha Grace Rambusch, Executive Director, with funding from the Architectural League of New York, the New York State Council of the Arts, and the National Endowment for the Humanities. The entry format was modified by C. Ford Peatross and Mary Ison, of the COPAR staff at the Library of Congress. Financial support for the automation of the Index was provided by the College of Fellows, American Institute of Architects. Computer equipment and time was provided by the Library of Congress. Maurice Sanders, Automation Planning Specialist, Research Services, Library of Congress, was most generous in sharing his technical expertise; without his assistance the Index could not have been automated at this time. Mary M. Ison, Reference Specialist, Prints & Photographs Division, has served as project manager and chief editor.

3. Revisions and new information

Entries in this working draft have not yet been verified by the contributing institutions. COPAR intends to complete such verification before making the Index available to the general public.

5. Other information understood, there are several factors which the reader should keep in mind:

1) Not all entries include information for each element in the format. The format was designed to be flexible in handling as much or as little information as provided by each institution.

2) Information in entries has not yet been verified by contributing institutions. Such verification will be completed before the Library makes the Index generally available.

3) The main sorting point is by "Namekey", an alphabetical listing of all entries by the personal names associated with the record, i.e., architect, members of firms, and "others". Multiple entries are Indexes to building locations, building types, owners of records, and record types are included at the end of the document.

4) Multiple records are made in the automation process to bring up entries under each name included in a firm, so that an entry referring to records relating to the work of McKim, Mead & White appears under each of those names. The exception is where the record would be duplicated in a nonsensical manner, such as the firm of Greene & Greene or the D. H. Burnham & Co.
