

MEMBERS OF THE FIRST BATTALION, BRITISH RIFLE BRIGADE, In Their Trenches in Northwest France, Ready for an Expected Offensive Movement from the German Lines Not Far Distant
(Photo (C) by American Press Assn.)

Red Cross Nurses, Under Fire in the Trenches in the North of France, Removing a Wounded Soldier
(Photo (C) by Underwood & Underwood.)

BRITISH CAVALRY TROOPS IN FLANDERS BREAKING THE ICE TO WATER THEIR HORSES
(Photos (C) by International News Service.)

DR. JOSEPH BLAKE, FORMERLY OF NEW YORK, ON THE EXTREME LEFT, WITH A GROUP OF WOUNDED SOLDIERS IN FRONT OF THE AMERICAN WAR HOSPITAL IN PARIS

FRENCH ARTILLERYMEN FIRING AT A HOSTILE AERIAL VISITOR