Wincarnis "Has Done Wonders in Restoring the Wounded."

Messieurs:-

J'ai l'honneur de vous informer que parmi les nombreux blessés que j'ai actuellement à mon hôpital, il m'est arrivé à plusieurs reprises d'avoir à combattre des hémorragies "extrêmement" graves, & que le "WINCARNIS" a fait merveille pour le rétablissement de ces blessés.- Je puis citer entre autres cas, une hémorragie consécutive à une blessure du genou, qui s'était produite pendant le sommeil du malade, & je puis dire sans exagération que le WINCARNIS lui a sauvé la vie en lui infusant un sang nouveau.

Etant donné qu'il est impossible de se procurer actuellement du "WINCARNIS", & la petite provision que j'avais apportée avec moi au commencement de la guerre étant complètement épuisée, je viens vous demander s'il vous serait possible de m'en envoyer quelques flacons à mon Hôpital, & avec mes remerciements anticipés, je vous prie d'agréer, Messieurs, l'assurance de mes sentiments distingués.

Le Médecin Chef,
A. LAUERANCITTE

Vierzon, France, October 20, 1914.

Gentlemen:- I have the honor to inform you that among the many wounded at present in my hospital, I have had on several occasions to combat extremely serious cases of hemorrhage and that Wincarnis has done wonders in restoring these wounded. I can mention, among others, a case of secondary hemorrhage in a wound at the knee which occurred during the sleep of the patient, and I can state without exaggeration, that Wincarnis saved his life by creating new blood.

In view of the fact that it is impossible to procure Wincarnis at the present moment, and as the small supply I had brought with me at the beginning of the war is now exhausted, I beg leave to inquire whether it would be possible for you to send me a few bottles at the Hospital.

Anticipating my thanks and with assurances of my distinguished sentiments, I am,

A. LAUERANCITTE, The Surgeon-in-Chief.

If you are run down, worn out, weak, anaemic, sickly, or suffering from loss of sleep, try Wincarnis. It is a liquid tonic food—in use abroad for more than 30 years, endorsed in writing by more than 10,000 physicians, whose letters the manufacturers have on file. Wincarnis contains nothing but these three ingredients. Extract of Beef, Extract of Malt, and a Wine specially selected for its noted tonic properties, all combined by an original process in a palatable and easily digestible form. The Extract of Beef is from the most nutritious portions of prize cattle of English breed. The Extract of Malt is prepared from ripe selected
