

AUSTRIAN SOLDIERS GIVING FIRST AID TO A COMRADE ON THE GALICIAN FRONT, WHERE BREASTWORKS HAVE FOR ONCE REPLACED TRENCHES.

(Photos © by International News Service.)

GERMAN SOLDIER, UNABLE TO OBTAIN HEN EGGS, Climbing a Tree Near Suwalki, Russian Poland, for the Eggs of Rooks.

Madame Kokovtseva, Colonel of the Sixth Ural Cossack Regiment, Who Has Been Twice Wounded While Leading Her Men, and Was Recently Awarded the Cross of St. George for Bravery. She Is Called "The Russian Joan of Arc."

English Girls, Members of the Women's Volunteer Reserve, in Physical Training Before Proceeding to the Front for First Aid and Other War Duties.

(Photo © by Sport & General.)

AN ADVANCE WING OF GERMAN INFANTRY AWAITING THE COMMAND TO FIRE, THE ATTACK HAVING ALREADY BEGUN FURTHER UP THE LINE.

(Photo © by Brown & Dawson, from Underwood & Underwood.)