

REMARKABLE PHOTOGRAPH OF ONE OF THE HEAVIEST FRENCH GUNS IN ACTION AT NIGHT ON THE SOMME FRONT. Light for the Exposure Was furnished by the Great Burst of Flame from the Cannon's Mouth, the Steel Helmets of the Men Glinting Weirdly in the Glow.
(Photo © by American Press Assn. From Medem.)

FRENCH SOLDIERS ON THE SOMME FRONT ALREADY CONSTRUCTING QUARTERS FOR THE COMING WINTER, USING SAND BAGS FROM THE TRENCHES.
(Photo from Paul Thompson.)

FRENCH USING A SMALL RAILWAY IN THE COMMUNICATING TRENCHES TO CONVEY HOT SOUP TO THE MEN IN THE FIRING LINE. So Far as Known, This Is the First Photograph to Reach This Country Showing the Use of Light Rail Lines in the Trenches.
(Photo © by Underwood & Underwood.)

FRENCH GIRL DRIVING AN AMERICAN BINDER IN NORTHERN FRANCE.
(Photo from Underwood & Underwood.)

Salesgirls from a Paris Department Store, According to a Custom Recently Sprung Up and Very Popular, Entertaining at Lunch in the Basement of the Store a "Poulu" Stranger in Paris Whom One of the Girls Happened to Find Wandering About the Streets Gazing Into Shop Windows.
(Photo by Albert Wyndham.)