Charlotte Greenwood's refractory legs and a temporary exchange of wives by two mismated husbands provide the laughs in the musically agreeable "So Long Letty."

Photos by White.

Sixteen—count 'em, please—of the chorus sirens who sing sweet songs at the Shubert.

Percy Bronson has an agreeable part---or so it looks.

Frances Cameron and Ben Sinn in a laugh-provoking scene.

Charlotte Greenwood (at the right) beats a few eggs for May Boley.

Kay Beach and Gertrude Reynolds, advance fashion forms for Palm Beach.

The Cameron Sisters are Back Again