

Love, long re-
puted blind, is dumb,
too, in "Pierrot, the Prodigal"; but it succeeds in speaking volumes.

Photos by White.

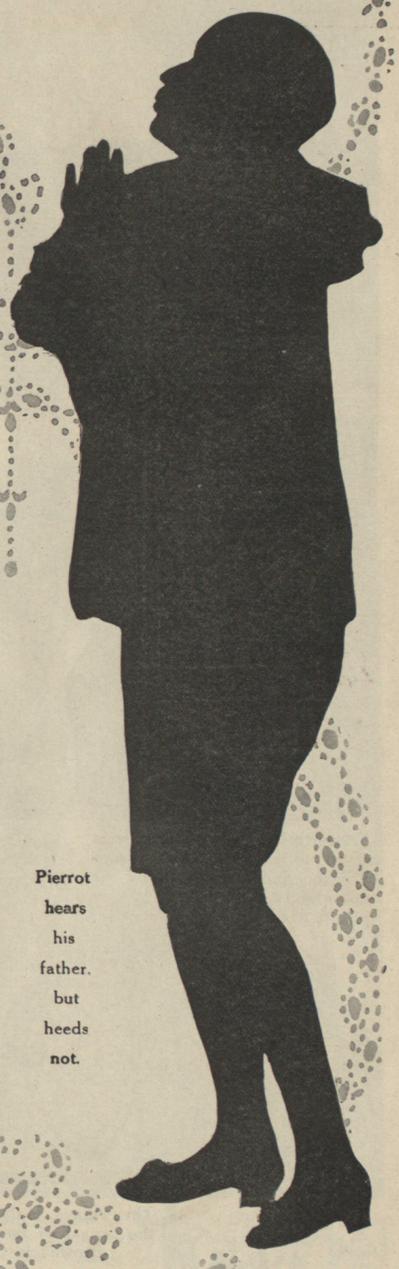

Pierrot (Marjorie Patterson), madly infatuated with the siren Phrynnette (Margot Kelly) visits her in her boudoir.

Mme. Gabrielle Perrier, Miss Patterson and M. Paul Clerget in a scene from the pantomime. M. Clerget is the father of headstrong Pierrot.

Papa Pierrot admonishes his offspring to behave.

Pierrot hears his father, but heeds not.

Pierrot resolves to retrieve his honor by enlisting in the army, and his parents sorrowfully bid him adieu