

The AutoStrop Razor is the Military Razor

A razor that is self-maintaining, that does not require a constant supply of new blades, that keeps the blades it starts with in perfect condition, always sharp and free from rust, is the ideal razor for the soldier's kit. The AutoStrop Razor is the real military razor because it is the only razor which sharpens its own blades. The farther a man gets away from civilization, the more difficult it is to get blades. The AutoStrop Razor sharpens the blades it has with it. It needs no base of supplies. The blades supplied with the razor can easily be kept in such good condition that the man in camp, on the transport, or at the front will not need additional blades.
