Romance and Reality—Showing Joe and Bessie, who are thinking of trying the marriage game, and Mr. and Mrs. Brown, in the distance, who have tried it for some years.

Harry and Moe, who work at "the big store," working overtime to get a whole summer's tan in o..e afternoon.

AMONG US MORTALS

ON THE BEACH

DRAWN BY W. E. HILL

Somebody's cute little girl, about to stumble with a pail of sand on Pete the Milkman, who is not going to think she is very cute.

The lady who hops along on one foot and thinks she is getting on with her swimming splendidly.

Watching Sam, who had told her the water was almost lukewarm, entice Nellie into the surf. "Get your head wet, Nellie."

"Blub!"

The young lady who won't go one step further, "for if I once get my hair wet it will look perfectly awful all the rest of the afternoon."